THE

ROMAN VESPERAL

ACCORDING TO THE

VESPERALE ROMANUM

FOR THE

ENTIRE ECCLESIASTICAL YEAR.

FOR THE USE OF

CATHOLIC CHOIRS AND SCHOOL-CHILDREN

BY

Rev. JOHN B. JUNG,
(Priest of the Diocese of Cleveland.)

WITH THE APPROBATION OF THE RIGHT REV. R. GILMOUR, BISHOP OF CLEVELAND, OHIO.

THIRD EDITION.

FR. PUSTET,
PRINTER TO THE HOLY SEE AND THE S. CONGREGATION OF RITES.

FR. PUSTET & CO.,
NEW YORK AND CINCINNATI.

Preface.

In presenting the Roman Vesperal to the Catholic Public, I have but little to say. A moment's glance at it will show: that it really contains, what the title says, viz., the Vespers according to the Vesperale Romanum for the entire ecclesiastical year, suited to the wants of our church-choirs and congregations. The Antiphons are omitted being left to a select choir.

This Roman-Vesperal then, is not to replace the Vesperale Romanum, as far as the select choir is concerned. It is calculated for such choirs as cannot sing the Antiphons, and especially for the school-children and such people of the congregation as wish to join in the congregational singing at Vespers.

The idea of such a book was suggested to me by the Right Rev. Bishop Gilmour, when he urged congregational singing at the last annual meeting of the St. Cecilia Society at Cleveland.

The arrangement being entirely according the Vesperale Romanum, it will take the Priest only a minute to show the choir-master, what Vespers are to be sung on the occurring Sunday or Feast.

As to the organ accompaniment I refer to that of the Vesperale Romanum, edited by Fr. Pustet & Co. It covers this Roman Vesperal entirely, and will, as it is also printed in modern notes, induce choir-masters to teach their choirs the Antiphons. Liturgy, and the entire Liturgy must be our aim!

With regard to the placing of the text of the Psalms beneath the notes, I have followed the principles of the best French and German Authors.

To explain, how to find the Psalms etc. for any Feast take the Feast of Corpus Christi, page 131.

1: Dixit $I/_3$ (2). Thus 1: indicates the First Psalm of the Vesper. I indicates, that this Psalm is to be sung according to the 1st Vesper-Tone. The little 3, aside of the I. means, that the 3d ending of the I. Tone is to be taken and (2) gives the page, on which the Psalm, as required is to be found. And thus, throughout the whole book.

I trust, then, that the Roman Vesperal will prove a welcome little volume to our Catholic Choirs and schools.

Defiance, Ohio, February 26th, 1886.

Approbation

of the Rt. Rev. R. Gilmour, D. D.

Episcopal Residence.

I have examined with considerable care, and much satisfaction the manuscript of the ROMAN VESPERAL prepared for the use of choirs by Rev. J. B. Jung, a priest of the diocese of Cleveland.

The object of the work is to facilitate the use of the Liturgy as prepared and approved by the Church. When formerly our churches were poor, and the means of presenting the services of the Church limited, there may have been a strained excuse for the light and unecclesiastical music so often heard: but surely that can not, and should not continue, the less when such works as the present are within easy reach of choirs.

The will of the church is clear on the subject of her music, and the care with which she has prepared her Liturgy and commanded its use should admonish all that neither her music, nor the language of her services is to be lightly or readily changed, or omitted, and never without proper authority.

We heartily commend this Roman Vesperal, and will be glad to see it largely used in the choirs of the diocese, and throughout the country.

Cleveland April 13th 1886.

Bishop of Cleveland.
